Company Profile

Jieyang Hengding Fine Chemical Co., Ltd. is an integrated manufacturer deeply engaged in the field of household aerosol products, dedicated to providing one-stop solutions from product R&D to packaging and final delivery. With "Professional Manufacturing, Efficient Collaboration, and Quality First" as its core competitiveness, Hengding aims to become a leading comprehensive service provider in the daily-use aerosol industry.

Core Business: Full-Chain Aerosol Production

Hengding specializes in the full-process manufacturing of daily-use aerosol products, covering a wide range of applications including automotive care, household cleaning, industrial lubrication, and basic construction materials.

Main products include wall spray paint, air fresheners, foam cleaners, rust remover & lubricant sprays, among others.

Unlike traditional filling-only enterprises, Hengding has achieved integrated auxiliary material production, covering the entire chain from can-making, plastic cap and valve production, to filling and carton packaging.

This closed-loop industrial system not only ensures consistent quality control across all stages, but also greatly enhances production efficiency through resource integration — providing customers with a more stable and flexible supply capability.

Production Capacity: Five Dedicated Lines for High-Efficiency Delivery

The company operates five advanced aerosol filling production lines, equipped with intelligent automation systems and standardized processes.

With a daily output capacity of up to 200,000 cans, Hengding can handle both large-scale orders and urgent delivery demands.

From raw material pre-processing, container forming, filling and sealing to labeling and final packaging, every step strictly follows the company's quality management system, ensuring each product meets industry-leading standards.

Corporate Philosophy: Quality as the Foundation, Integrity for Long-Term Growth

Hengding Fine Chemical upholds the business philosophy of "Quality First, Customer Supreme." Relying on our full-industry-chain advantages and professional technical team, we continuously optimize product performance and service experience.

We are not only a manufacturer, but also a trusted supply chain partner—committed to understanding customer needs through in-depth communication, providing customized solutions that help clients reduce overall costs and enhance market competitiveness.
